Phase 7 — Project Documentation

Abstract

LegalEase is an AI-powered legal-document drafting and export platform. It accepts structured information from a user, sends a controlled drafting request to Google Gemini, displays the resulting draft, and supports TXT, DOCX, and PDF export.

Objectives

- Build an end-to-end GenAI application.
- Demonstrate API-based architecture.
- Automate first-draft document generation.
- Provide multiple export formats.
- Maintain a clear separation between UI, API, AI, and export layers.

Technology Stack

Technology	Role
Python	Application language
Streamlit	User interface
FastAPI	Backend API
Google Gemini	Generative AI
Pydantic	Validation
python-dotenv	Configuration
python-docx	Word export
ReportLab	PDF export
pytest	Testing

Advantages

- Simple user workflow
- AI-assisted drafting
- Structured outputs
- Multiple export formats
- Modular architecture

Limitations

- AI output may be inaccurate.
- Jurisdiction-specific requirements may differ.
- Human/legal review is required.
- Internet/API availability affects generation.

Future Enhancements

- Authentication
- Document history
- Database storage
- Multiple document templates
- Citation/reference verification
- Version comparison
- Collaboration
- Role-based access
- Audit logs
- Improved document formatting
- Multilingual drafting

02 User Manual

LegalEase User Manual

1. Launch

Start the backend:

```
uvicorn backend.main:app --reload
```

Start the frontend:

```
streamlit run frontend/app.py
```

2. Enter Information

Fill in:

- Document type
- Party A
- Party B
- Effective date
- Terms and conditions
- Optional additional instructions

3. Generate

Click the generation button and wait for the AI response.

4. Review

Read the complete generated draft. Check:

- Names
- Dates
- Amounts
- Responsibilities
- Terms
- Missing information

5. Export

Choose the required format:

- TXT
